

HOSPITALITY & RESTAURANT FORM AND FUNCTION.

Finding the perfect blend of form and function is the main goal for the hospitality and restaurant industry. Achieving this often involves utilizing a variety of design concepts and experience due to the diverse range of amenities offered in modern facilities. FXB works closely with their partners from conceptual design through construction ensuring each set of unique challenges are efficiently addressed while maintaining aesthetic visions of the team. An experienced engineering and design team is essential to securing a competitive edge in this dynamic market while ensuring compliance with strict construction and health department codes.
